History

SURROUNDED BY THE MONARCHY AND LISBON'S ARISTOCRACY

The Crest of Catarina of Bragança

The name Raffaello represents a combination of the artistic look of the condominium and its location on Rua Rafael de Andrade, a street that was named after a 19th century military man and politician.

In addition, this area of the city was already renowned for the Palácio da Bemposta (also called Paço da Rainha), an imposing monument that was used for a period as a royal residence.
